Dear Employer:

Los Alamos National Laboratory is hosting its annual Postdoctoral Researchers Career Fair to be held in Los Alamos, New Mexico from Tuesday August 31, 2010 thru Thursday, September 2, 2010. We welcome your organization's participation in this year's event.

We are continuing to offer registration for a fee of $100 per company. This includes participation in the opening reception, main recruiting event, and access to the interview and information session rooms. Opportunities for your company to sponsor meals and events will also be available this year and would be greatly appreciated.

The student and postdoc populations at Los Alamos consist of over 400 students and over 350 recent Ph.D. recipients from top U.S. and International Universities working on theoretical, experimental, and modeling topics in a broad range of disciplines including Astronomy; Bioscience; Chemistry; Earth, Atmospheric, and Ocean Sciences; Engineering; Materials Science; Mathematics and Computer Science; and Physics.
