

Remind yourself why you wanted to learn physics in the first place...

The 2011 Southeast Conference for Undergraduate Women in Physics provides the resources to help those majoring in physics plan a clearer path for themselves with:

- Information about graduate school and professions
- Interactions with your peers and the professionals
- Student research talks and poster sessions
- Laboratory tours
- Presentations about women in physics

Learn more about what you love and rediscover the possibilities for being a woman in physics

Join us Friday, January 14th to Sunday, January 16th 2011

The conference will be held at North Carolina State University. For more information and for application forms, see <http://www.southeastcuwp.org/>
